presents:

Green Faith: Mobilizing God's People to Save the Earth

with Rev. Fletcher Harper

Program Description:

In recent years, the religious-environmental movement has evolved into an international force for environmental protection on a larger scale than more than ever before. Rev Harper will share stories about recent faith-based campaigns, initiatives, and mobilizations that have made an impact and opportunities for houses of worship and people of faith to become involved.

Speaker Biography

Fletcher is an Episcopal priest and GreenFaith's Executive Director. Under his leadership, GreenFaith has developed innovative programs linking religious belief and practice to the environment. An award-winning spiritual writer and nationally-recognized preacher on the environment, he teaches and speaks at houses of worship from a range of denominations in nationally and internationally about the moral, spiritual basis for environmental stewardship and justice. An Ashoka Fellow and author of GreenFaith: Mobilizing God's People to Protect the Planet (Abingdon Press, 2015), Fletcher served as a parish priest for ten years and in leadership positions in the Episcopal Church before becoming GreenFaith's leader.
